The parade of the reunion classes around the diamond previous to the game had a distinctly martial air. One class were military uniforms and carried guns; another dragged several cannon; a war balloon hovered over the field, and regimental bands appeared in khaki. A mounted company of the Yale battery executed manner than the crowd wash brought to its feet as a dozen bands played the Star Spangled Banner. Score:

New Haven. Conn., June 20.—With the score tied in the ninth and the bases filled, Percy sent a slashing triple to left and Harvard won the first game of the series from Yale today, 5 to 2, in the presence of a big commencement crowd. > GREATEST COLLEGE STAR Balley Signed by Boston Braves.

Mike Kahoe, the Brave scout, has landed Fred Balley, the Washington and Lee university star outfielder. Balley is a left-handed outfielder and first baseman. In college baseball he has hit at a heavy clip, and offers came from seven major league scouts. He singged over .500 four years for Marshall college, West Virginia, and led the Washington and Lee University nine in 1815 with a mark of .390. With offers from the Chicago Cubs and White Sox, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis Americans, Cieveland and Boston, Balley decided to start with the Braves.

Hoston, Balley decided to start with the Braves.

Balley is 5 feet, 10 inches tall, ex-ceedingly fast and a daring base run-ner. But, at the bat, Balley is re-garded as a marvel. He is endowed with an unusually keen batting eye, and hits the ball more viciously than the average "star" college player. Al Orth, the major league umpire, is an admirer of the recruit, and believes he will make good he will make good.

Cleveland purchased the luckless hurler that night at the waiver price. He started a game in St. Louis, walked seven and hit one in three innings.
